

OBJECTIVES

This policy details how the Melbourne Medical School in the Faculty of Medicine, Dentistry and Health Sciences (MDHS) administers Short Leave of Absence (SLOA) requests.

POLICY

The Melbourne Medical School grants two forms of Short Leave of Absence:

- Personal Leave
- Professional Development Leave

Short Leave of Absence requests must be submitted at least two weeks prior to the proposed date of leave.

Personal Leave

Duration: There is no set duration for personal leave. Students must however note that the granting of personal leave does not negate subject attendance requirements. If attendance is unsatisfactory as a result of personal leave students may be asked to make up the time missed or be referred to the Course Unsatisfactory Progress Committee.

Personal leave may be granted for:

- Personal illness
- To care for a family or household member who is ill or injured
- Parental leave
- Significant personal event (as a guide, the following examples would be considered 'significant': birth of a child, funeral of a family member)
- Representation at state, national or international level in sports, arts or other activity (for students registered in the Elite Athlete Program)
- Defence reservists
- State Emergency Service volunteers

Professional Development Leave

Duration: Up to ten [10] days per year (with a maximum of five [5] days per semester).

Professional development leave may be granted for approved health related activity including attendance at:

- Conferences
- Meetings
- Committees
- Short courses

Conditions of Short Leave of Absence

The conditions of SLOA are:

- Students are not permitted to undertake an elective clinical placement whilst on SLOA
- Students taking a SLOA must make arrangements to catch up on all content missed during that leave.
- Students may be required to attend make-up time for tutorials, practical classes or clinical time missed during a period of SLOA. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that these arrangements are made. Please note, clinical, hospital and University staff are not obliged to schedule any make-up sessions, or make arrangements or to ensure that this requirement is met.
- Students who are granted SLOA while undertaking Primary Care Community Base (PCCB) placements will not ordinarily be required to make up for clinical time at their PCCB placement.
